Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

—V—

The American flag in the city park was at half mast Wednesday, and there was much speculation about it. Some thought that the Tom Bailey men, realizing the hopelessness of their cause, had done it; others that Churchill was dead; others that city taxes were so high.

John Hamby and wife of Charleston, S. C. Navy Yard, are spending a few days at home in Grenada.

Whyte Junior's condition is slowly improving. He is at the Station Hospital Ward D-6, Camp McCain, Miss.

If it is true, as rumored, that some negro soldiers stopped a white soldier and his girl, held a razor to the white soldier's throat while the negroes, in turn, ravished the white woman, near Duck Hill, last Sunday night, something should be done about it. Jim Eastland and Bilbo got quick action at Camp Van Dorn, where race trouble was, or appeared to be imminent.

The public is invited to the 87th Division review Sunday morning, and it is a wonderful opportunity. See complete announcement elsewhere.

You will miss an outstanding list of inspirational sermons if you fail to read "Stop-Think-Pray" in another part of this issue.

Everyone is invited to come to the First Baptist Church Sunday evening and every evening for two weeks to hear the outstanding evangelist, Gypsy Smith.

Remember, candidates, you must qualify before Hurd Horton or Ed Underwood, on or before July 3.

We were most happy to have with us for a short visit Wednesday afternoon, Hon. Henry Kahn, of Duck Hill a peerless gentleman, as well as an incurable optimist.

Hon. Walker Wood, candidate for reelection as Secretary of State, a post he has held for four or five terms, was a visitor in our office recently. He, like the rest of us, is showing his age.

The postal authorities will no doubt investigate to see how the Sumner Sentinel, which has become a Dennis Murphree house organ, can send huge numbers of copies of this newspaper to non-subscribers through the U. S. mails by using the cheap 2nd Class mailing privilege. If the authorities do not see about this, they should.

Cpl. Andrew D. Whitaker has been sent to Montana, and I hope this will not give valuable information to the enemy.

Have you noticed the new way we have of making up our paper. The new method saves several hours of precious time.

Hurrah for Russia.

Judge McKibben, we are sorry to note, has been laid up for a week.

Judge Boushe had a case Wednesday involving the wife of a colored officer. When she sought to board a bus, the driver, as is customary in this country, requested her to stand aside until the white people entered, whereupon he received a first class cussing from the woman. She was arraigned for disturbing the peace, using obscene language and perhaps one other offense. J. P. Coleman, the District Attorney, was here to push the case. "Guilty", was the verdict, and about four hundred dollars was turned into the county treasury.

Favorite correspondent and Mrs. Wade have been visiting in Jackson hence no column this week.

We are mighty happy to include on our mailing list the name of Mrs. P. W. Waite, of Jacksonville, the handsome wife of our friend, Major Waite of the Station Complement. I am looking after him, Mrs. Waite, and keeping him out of devilment.

Wonder how Brother Pierce is getting along?

"When I saw her father reach for his gun,
I knew that Mary and I would soon be as one," said Socrates.

Politician M. W. Merman (that's his name, not his religion), has been added to our Sweetman list recently.

Ed Whitehead, tycon of Winona, was a recent visitor to Grenada.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vance, of Camp Shelby, have been visiting homefolks in Grenada and returned to camp Friday morning. "Mr." is the title of Warrant Officer in the United States Army

Ray Dubard, Native of This County, Died Saturday

Ray Gordon Dubard, member of one of Grenada County's oldest families, died at his country home in the Spring Hill community Saturday, May 30, 1943, the immediate cause of his death being heart trouble.

Burial and funeral services were had at Spring Hill Church southwest of Grenada. Rev. A. W. Bailey and Rev. L. P. Juniper officiated.

Surviving him are his widow, two daughters, Miss Sallye Dubard, of Grenada, and Mrs. F. B. F. MacKirby, of Hernando; four sons, W. M. Dubard, of Horn Lake, A. R. Dubard, of Atlanta, C. M. Dubard, of Jacksonville, and L. R. Dubard, of New Orleans; one brother, J. W. Dubard, of Paducah and one sister, Mrs. Joe Jackson, of Grenada.

Sympathy is extended the bereaved ones.

Any Boy Scout, or hunters, or others who will donate hunting knives for this purpose, please report to Mr. Roy Doak at the Doak Hardware.

This war is not going to last forever. It is easily conceivable that some "brass hat" in Washington might decide to abandon Camp McCain at ANY time. The army does things like that. Then, p-o-o-f, the easy money would be gone, and we would have to depend on the customers that permitted us to get started. Better think of these things and cultivate the home market better.

Recreational Program To Begins Monday

Opening of the Summer Recreational Program on Monday, June 7, will mark another stride in the civic progress of the City of Grenada. This program, instigated and sponsored by the Grenada Parent Teache Association and the local business men, is under the direction of Miss Katharine Wilson. The purpose is to provide recreation during the summer vacation time for Grenada youth between the ages of six and twenty inclusive.

Activities are divided between two age groups—those between the ages of six and twelves, and the teen age group. The following schedule has been arranged according to the different ages which directly affects the nature of recreation:

Age 6-10—9:00-11:30 a. m.
Ages 10-12—2:00-4:30 p. m.
Teen age—8:00-11:00 p. m.

The six through twelve year or Junior group will have a program sheduled for six days a week at the Primary School building. This program will include music, games, various crafts, athletics, story-telling and numerous other means of fun. Two nights each week the High School gymnasium will be opened for the teen-age group for dancing, ping pong, games, and other organized recreation.

The City of Grenada is to be commended for its far-sightedness is pushing forward an organized plan of recreation this vacation season. We are indeed fortunate to have citizens who fully realize the value of such a program to its youth during this emergency period. Grenada's places of amusement are filled to overflowing and in our endeavor to make our city more pleasant for the soldiers we must not forget our own youth.

All parents, friends and citizens of Grenada who are interested in the young people of our city are urged to bring to the Primary School building immediately any pday equipment that may possibly be used in the Recreational Program.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY J. P. COLEMAN INVESTIGATES RAPE CASE

Mr. J. P. Coleman, our Distict Attorney of the Fifth District, announced today that he was conducting a thorough investigation into the alleged rape of a white woman by six negro soldiers from Camp McCain. Mr. Coleman stated that he is being assisted in his investigation by Major C. S. Lloyd Provost Marshal at Camp McCain, and by Sheriff G. E. Box, of Montgomery County.

The District Attorney stated that his investigation up to now shows that the victim of the attack is a white woman about 40 years of age. Her former home is Ethel, Mississippi, but she has been living in Duck Hill for several months. She is separated from her husband and children. She spent the night Saturday night and the day Sunday with a white soldier from Camp McCain. About 10 o'clock Sunday night the soldier went with her part of the way from Camp McCain down to Duck Hill. She was walking on down the highway with another soldier near the outskirts of Duck Hill, when a group of about six negro soldiers assaulted them with a knife and a pistol. The white soldier was carried off the I. C. Railroad tracks out of sight, where he was held at pistol point, and the remaining soldiers committed the crime. The white soldier said that the negroes were drinking, as he could smell the liquor on their breath.

The white soldier and the assaulted woman have already reviewed about 1500 negro troops at Camp McCain, but are not yet able to identify the assailants, since the occurrence took place in the dark.

The District Attorney, the Sheriff, and the authorities of Camp McCain say that every effort will be exerted to apprehend the violators.

Signed,
J. P. COLEMAN

Soldiers Swing Hoes For Victory At Air Case,

Soldier-farmers of the Grenada Army Air Base, located near the crossroads town of Grenada, Mississippi, have substituted the hoe and rake for the gun and helmet, to aid in meeting the food crisis faced by the United States.

About 35 acres are already under cultivation, supplying the base with nutritious vegetables which otherwise would place more burdens upon the already strained land crop output of the country. Labor is performed by the base personnel, with unclassified men being used as far as possible. This is in addition to the physical education program under way at the air base.

The Food Production Program, under the direction of Major William W. Broome, has taken advantage of surplus land, equipment, and personnel, to produce food crops for the use of the personnel of the field, which has to date resulted in monetary savings to the base which would otherwise have been expended on the markets.

The quartermaster is supplying the necessary seeds, seed potatoes, onion sets, and vegetable plants, while Base Utilities has proceeded to supplement maintenance machinery in quantities and kind to meet the requirements of the program.

With all manual labor in connection with the Food Production Program being reserved as "Honorable Duty", no "punishment" details are assigned to the farm work. All crops harvested are turned over to the Base Commissary for cleaning and distribution.

The bulk of the acreage already under cultivation is devoted to potatoes, which cover ten acres, the remained of the land being alloted various crops in accordance with their food value and taste to the personnel of the field, corn, six acres; lima beans, four acres; string beans, squash, and cantaloupe, three acres; tomatoes and cucumbers, two acres; lettuce, carrots, beets and squash, one acre each, with one and a half acres for the latter. The remaining two and a half acres have been let for radish, turnips, okra and onions.

The recent rains have alleviated the threat of crop losses faced during the two weeks dry spell which preceded the rainfall. Never at one time has there been over ten men owrking in the fields, due to men having been taken for classified jobs about the base, leaving only groups of five, and is frequently the case, only two or three men to till the soil.

At the present writing the planes of Marianne Bailey and Dorothy Liles seem to be the most speedy. Come down and see what a brave show the map makes with its bright squadrons. Blue and red seem to be the popular colors.

The Thursday night discussion groups continue to be very interesting. Last week, the fate of Germany was argued and settled to the participants satisfaction. The leader was Pvt. Thaddeus Zelaz!

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Considering cost of oil, gasoline and upkeep, it is estimated that the cost of driving the average car for 1000 miles at 45 miles per hour is $32.63. At 25 mph the cost is cut to $14.39 and at 35 mph it is held to $17.86.

Malaya and the Netherlands Indies were the only sources of natural rubber in the world which had been successfully exploited to an important extent prior to the present war.

Rubber and gas rationing did not drastically cut motor truck operations last year. Official figures show that during 1942 trucks hauled an estimated 48 billion ten miles of freight on main rural highways, compared with 42.7 billion in the more normal 1940.

Household Hints

A small window may be made to look larger by setting the curtain rods beyond the casing on each side and using draperies of a material heavy enough so that casings will not be seen through material.

To tightly fasten corks in bottles, boil the corks for five minutes to soften them and then, while hot press them into the bottles. When cool the seal will be perfect.

After you have removed old wallpaper, wash the walls with warm water to remove the old paste. Rinse slightly and let the walls dry perfectly before putting on the new paper. This extra work pays.

Rinse in cold water or wipe off with a damp cloth all your meats, vegetables and fruits, as soon as possible after they are delivered. Canned goods and bottles of milk should be wiped off before they are stored in the refrigerator or cupboard.

Ground or chopped meat needs much colder storage and keeps a shorter time than other meat.

One of the secrets of good chowders and thick soups is to let the vegetables do the thickening. Potatoes and other vegetables will cook down so that they will thicken the soup themselves, without the addition of flour and fat. If flour is added to thicken a soup, don't use too much and be sure to cook it enough to give it a distinctive flavor. Unless flour is used carefully, the cream soups come out stodgy and tasteless.

Even Cupid Is Living Up To the Rules These Days

Being of a very kindly nature, the foreman of the munition plant took a great interest in the love affair of one of his pretty "munitionettes."

Then one day he was surprised to hear that it was broken off. But that very evening he was even more surprised to see the young lady in question out with the newly discarded young man.

"Why, Doris," he said chidingly, "I thought you had finished with that young man. And here you are out with him."

"That's right, I have," was the reply from Doris; "but I had to give him seven days' notice, didn't I?"

Sew-On Chair Covers in the Smart Cottons Easy to Remove for Cleaning

SEW-ON covers of chintz or other smart cottons are always neat and trim and, since the pieces are all sewn to the old upholstery of the chair with rather long stitches,

PIN-FIT, THEN MARK PIECES TO BE WELDED
PRESS SEAM UNDER
TUCK HEAVY ROPE AROUND SEAT TO HOLD COVER DOWN
SEW ON UNWELTED PIECES, THEN SEW WELTED PIECES OVER THEM WITH A CURVED NEEDLE

it is not difficult to remove the cover for washing or cleaning.

A sew-on cover should be pin-fitted with a 4-inch tuck-in around the spring seat and 1-inch seam allowances. Use tailor's chalk to mark stitching lines and indicate pieces to have welting stitched to edges. Here, welting is used for the side seams of the inside center back section; across the front of the seat; for the top and bottom of the outside; and all around the front of the arm sections. The sketch shows how welted and unwelted pieces are sewn in place.

Enclosed Tips

In Japan, small envelopes are made expressly for the purpose of enclosing tips for waiters, barbers, porters and other public servants. When such persons are given a gratuity without this covering, they are insulted because it shows that the donor has no consideration for their feelings.

What is the most welcome gift you can send to a man in the service? Well, surveys among service men themselves show that one of the favorite packages from home are cigarettes. And first choice among men in all the services is Camel, based on the actual sales records in Post Exchanges and Canteens. Though there are now Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen wherever they are.—Adv.

LT. JOSEPH P. GIVHAN'S TALK BEFORE LIONS ABOUT FOOD

Food shortages have begun to be felt in the United States and the pinch will grow more severe in the year to come. This seems almost incredible in America, the land of plenty. In 1940, food production exceeded that of 1939 by 5 percent; 1941 exceeded that of 1940 by 3½ percent; 1942 exceeded that of 1941 by 11 percent which is the highest in our nation's history. Agricultural production in 1942 was 28 percent above normal based upon the 5 years average of 1935 and 1939.

Last year we produced the biggest crop of foods in our history. What has happened to this vast supply? It is hard to understand, and when people don't understand a situation, rumors flourish. The rumor I have heard most frequently is that Uncle Sam, acting under Lend-Lease, is spreading our good American food about the world with a foolish and lavish hand. "No steak at the butcher's today," and that they are sending most of the beef to Russia, butter and eggs are awfully high and scarce, they say we are sending ship loads to England.

Such rumors are mostly innocent, grumbling talk, but in them lurk the elements of danger, cruelty and death—danger to our success in the war; and to millions of our allies who are now living close to starvation; and possible death to many thousands of American boys through prolongation of the war.

The best way to deal with such rumors is to gather the facts. Let's look first at beef which has probably caused more talk than anything else. In 1942, we sent abroad, chiefly to England, 18 million lbs. of beef. That seems a lot until we look at America's total 1942 supply, which was over 9 billion lbs. In other words, out of every 500 lbs of beef at home Lend-Lease sent one lb abroad.

Nor is that all the story. We have large forces in Australia and New Zealand. To save time and shipping, these two countries, through reciprocal Lend-Lease supplied our troops last year with 25 million lbs of beef, 7 million lbs more than we furnished to all Lend-Lease countries.

Then where has our beef gone It has gone to our armed forces at home and overseas, and to those (chiefly war workers) who now have more money to spend.

The armed forces in 1942 bought about 11 percent of our entire beef supply, some of it as reserve for future campaigns. Our hard-training, hard-fighting men in the services need beef, and need it very badly to undergo the rigid training they must have before they reach the battle field.

In 1939, the average American factory worker earned $23.02 a week. In November, 1942, vastly increased numbers of workers were making an average of $50.78 a week. They could not spend extra money on such things as cars, radios and refrigerators, so they are spending it for food, and for choicer food. Farmers also have larger average net incomes, and are buying more food. Americans, when they have more money, buy more meat, milk, cream, butter, eggs and poultry

We have sent no veal abroad. We have sent about 4 million lbs of lamb and mutton—less than half of 1 percent of our supply, but our troops have received more than that from Australia and New Zealand. Lend-Lease, however, has sent our allies certain other foods in quantities large enough to affect our shortages at home. The great bulk of Lend-Lease food shipped in 1942 consisted of pork, milk products, edible fats and oils and eggs. In the first part of the year most of the food went to England; then the emphasis began to shift toward Russia. China has made no request for Lend-Lease supplies.

Food is a weapon in all wars, but in this one more than usual. The enemy has used it as a weapon, negatively—looting the conquered peoples of their food supply, and giving back to them just enough to keep them alive—indeed not always even that much; hoping to break their spirit, and when that endeavor failed, hoping to weaken them physically, so that they could make less resistence to their oppressors. We are using our food supply as a weapon, positively; so distributing it that the American army and navy, and the American people will be well nourished; yes, and so that the armies our our allies will be kept strong too.

Last year we shipped more than a billion lbs of pork to our allies, 10 percent of our American supply. That was a lot of pork—enough to fill 55 big freight steamers carrying 10 thousand tons, each.

It helped to strengthen and encourage the Russian army in its prodigious battles. Russian soldiers appreciate an occasional treat of American pork sausage; lacking butter, they often spread American lard on their black bread in sub-zero weather soldiers fighting in isolated spots frequently carry a chunk of American fat back as a battle ration to eat with their bread.

Incidentally, practically every bit of food we send to Russia is for the Russian army.

In milk products, Lend-Lease shipped during 1942 the equivalent of some 2 billion qts, or one-thirtieth of our total milk supply. Most of it was sent as condensed or evaporated milk, dry skim milk and cheese. We are sending these large amounts of milk products for two main reasons: because our allies are very short of them and badly need milk nourishment to maintain health and fighting fitness and because cheese and dried milk are economical forms in which to transport food value in terms of cargo space.

The facts about butter are simple: In 1942, we shipped via Lend-Lease about 17 million lbs, or less than one in every 100 of our supply. All of it went to the Russian army. It is enough to give each Russian soldier American butter on his black bread once a week.

That is no luxury. Heat-producing fats are essential to men fighting in Russia's withering winters.

We also shipped to England and Russia large quantities of lard, vegetable oils, cottonseed oil and peanut oil, valuable as a source of warmth in both countries. This partly accounts for our shortage in fats, but another important factor is their use in making explosives.

Last year we sent abroad, chiefly to England and Russia, the equivalent of 450 million dozen eggs, or 19 percent of our supply. Most of it was shipped in the form of dried egg powder. This product contains practically all the nourishment of fresh eggs but takes up only about 1-7 as much space. It keeps well, requires no refrigeration and is easy to handle. It is not a luxury food, but has been most welcome. The Englishman gets an average of 3 domestic eggs-in-shell a month. Our dried eggs supply them with the equivalent of an additional 4 eggs a month. Lend-Lease is also shipping—in smaller quantities canned and frozen fish; canned vegetables fruits and juices; and corn and wheat products.

That is the picture. In 1942 we sent our allies less than 6 percent, by value, of our supply. But it was of incalculable value to them.

At present we are sending more than we were this time last year. No exact predictions can be made, because we cannot be sure just what shipping will be available. Nor can we say how soon or how deeply we will enter the starving countries of Europe. Wherever we go, we must be prepared to move in rapidly with food in the wake of our armies, as we did in N. A.

Whatever happens, Lend-Lease plans to take a much bigger share of our supplies than it did last year. Russia's problem is acute. The Germans have been in possession of the Ukraine, the Crimea and the North Caucasus—lands producing 2-3 of Russia's normal food supply. The foods we send may make all the difference between whether the Russians advance or retreat. Recently I had an opportunity to listen to a talk by Mr. Francis Blood, world traveler, writer, author and lecturer He said before this war England was producing substantially more farm products than Iowa and Indiana, which are in the heart of our farm production and are equal to England in area. Since the war they have increased their farm output by 50 percent while exceeding the United States in per capita army and per capita in industrial war needs. Even the "White Cliffs of Dover" country in range of German guns across the channel is producing more food from more acres. Enemy shells of course are disturbing but farmers work on. In all of England one building out of each 5 has been destroyed or ruined by bombs. Airfields and other war projects have taken much land from the farmers.

Dairy cows and hay stacks must be scattered to avoid major destruction by one bomb. Air battles disturb horses below and some farmers have been forced to abandon horses for tractors which guns and bombs do not disturb. They do their chores under darkness for air raid protection. One farmer showed Mr. Blood where a direct hit killed two men, 3 horses and damaged his implements. Men and horses were buried and the equipment repaired that night. The next day work was resumed.

All of this tells us that in this country we are far from full use of our labor and resources. In England daughters of big bankers, for example, are now "hired men" on farms. For what they have done and are now doing we admire them, their achievement is marvelous. They are an example and a challenge to us.

In comparison, however, it should be said that farming in England is on a much higher economical level than it is in this country. Their farm wages are higher than industrial wages, food is better, housing is satisfactory and air raid danger is less. Here in America farm wages are only a minor fraction of industrial wages; and there are other farmer handicaps. This reminds me to say again that the price pull is the biggest pull that the Federal government can use for increased production. If prices are high enough farmers will do super jobs in getting labor, and doing other things to produce. Notice that I said price—not incentive or subsidy. Pay the farmers enough when he delivers his produce at his market and he will do his best to do the rest. He is highly patriotic but he can not operate on patriotism when others are being paid abundantly.

I would like to call your attention to the fact that long wars were won without many of the machines and munition of war now used, but wars were never won by starving armies. It is obvious, therefore, that food is our number one war need. A man without food cannot fight, regardless of how he is equipped otherwise. Farmers are operating this year with less help, fewer implements, less seed and fertilizer, yet they are expected to produce more so farmers have their job to do while our men in uniform are doing their part of fighting.

A short time ago I talked to an influential man from Tennessee on the subject of "Home Gardens." His interest was unselfish except for common good. He made a suggestion which I am passing on to you. It is that there be created in each county a community garden committee, then community and neighborhood committees. He believes that the county committee should be composed of people of wide acquaintance and big influence for prestige. Through these committees facts about gardens would spread, not only to farmers but to all people having land for gardens.

Reports to date indicate that many more gardens are being made this year but the total will not be enough. So we need more showmanship and salesmanship to put the job over in towns and on farms. Many will start, but weeds, bugs, and hot weather will stop them long before the year ends. So a committee to stimulate and keep up interest will help. This is a job which I am sure you can do a great deal toward helping see this project reach its goal.

In conclusion, I would like to pass this thought along to you— There is no substitute for human energy, and we must do a lot of hard thinking and planning before this gigantic job is done and peace restored.

ALTERNATES FOR BUTTER

WAR BRINGS many problems and to the homemaker none is greater than the one of food. Fortunately though for most of the food shortages we face there are one or more alternates that are more plentiful. Butter seems destined to join the ranks of scarce foods—perhaps it has already done so in your area. If so, remember that fat is an energy food and necessary for good nutrition.

If butter is short—or even if it isn't and you want to save money—get acquainted with margarine. Many of you are already familiar with the alternate for butter. There are quite a few brand names among these alternates under the general term of margarine. Some are produced from animal fats (butter is an animal fat, you know) some from vegetable fat and some combine both animal and vegetable. Also, some are enriched with vitamin A and some have vitamin D, too. All are nutritious, but of course the enriched types are more so. It is a good plan to try several and then decide which you like best—just as you have with butter.

You will find that margarine can be a great help to you in your cooking, and in seasoning cooked foods. In heating margarine, be just as careful as you are in heating butter. Melted margarine is delicious on vegetables, but if you heat it too quickly you will sacrifice flavor just as you do if butter is heated with too high heat.

When you wish to sauté foods in margarine — the same rule holds true as when sauté-ing in butter. If heated to too high a temperature, smoking ensues, and you have a product that is not as palatable as it should have been. It pays to remember that smoking is unwanted—for much of the quality of margarine is volatile and is lost in the smoke. So, too, high temperature can spoil both the fat and the food cooked in fat.

If you are one of those who thinks that no cake is real cake unless it has a "butter" flavor, and you have some butter, then use it with margarine to supply the butter flavor. For example, in a recipe calling for one cup butter—use one-fourth cup butter and three-fourths cup margarine. In spice cakes and molasses cakes you can use all margarine without a noticeable change in flavor.

Make it a point to be familiar with all the food alternates on the market today and select wisely the ones you need.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

Sam Simmons, while here on furlough or do Captains have "furloughs," I don't know as I never was a Captain, paid his subscription. Sam has also been doing some hand shaking and mixing around as he is a candidate for reelection as County Superintendent of Education.

Our pretty friend, Mrs. Lieutenant Moore, has returned from a visit to her folks in Texas.

I am glad that all candidates respect my policy of neutrality in local races and do not "politic" me. I take no sides in ANY local race. I would be foolish to do so.

Speaking of candidates, we have printing some mighty attractive candidate cards. Get yours now, and help keep Horn and Greenfield out of devilment.

This office was glad to receive for a short chat Mr. Will O'Bryan, of Coffeeberry, who is now in bad physical condition.

Cecil Ferguson, now in defense work in Memphis, while in Grenada on a visit, subscribed to the GCW and his money was put to good use, thank you.

Lt. Givhan, the landscaping, gardening officer at the camp, certainly is doing fine work. With him, I inspected about 160 acres of vegetable plants, all in healthy growing condition A sparrow could hardly find enough grass in his gardens to make a nest.

Wonder how Uncle 'Nan is getting along?

The Catholic Community Service, under the leadership of Miss Beechard, is a new paid-up subscriber—the only kind we have, as it costs money to print a newspaper.

I believe the colored USO is going to have an adequate building for the colorded soldiers before the USO for the white troops gets started.

Juchheim has not had to decide which of TWO fires at the SAME time to attend to, fortunately.

I believe I forgot to mention that Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Foster, proprietors of Peerless Laundy, subscribed several months ago. Both of them are hustlers.

Aint they sweet.

Remember, candidates, you must "qualify" before Hurd Horton or Ed Underwood—and incidentally, pay entrance fees, by July 3, one month before the primary.

Jack Robinson of the N. E. Miss Council, seems to be stirring up the poultry business in his bailiwick, if that's the way to spell it.

Horn and Greenfield face a week end of idleness and sin unless you hurry in some job printing.

MISS HONEYCUTT HONORED

The arrival home, last week of lovely Mary Douglas Honeycutt, recent graduate of Centre College, Danville, Ky., proved the inspiration for the first of the parties planned in her honor preceding her wedding in early summer, the courtesy being planned by Miss Annie Anderson, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Anderson on Third Street.

Throughout the reception room lovely bouquets of roses were arranged to supplement the patriotic color scheme of red, white and blue, which was used during the entire evening in presenting gifts and in serving refreshmets.

Assisting the hostess were her mother and her cousin, Mrs. Bill Lomax.

A game "Information Please," was enjoyed and the prize, a bottle of cologne, won by Anna Katherine Allen, was given to the honoree. The guests wrote wishes in the guest book for the bride-elect and this too was presented to her as a memento of the occasion. The gifts from the numerous guests, of crystal were arranged on the patriotic draped tea dart and at the time these were pesented, the hostess pesented her wedding gift of three tea spoons in the chosen silver pattern of the bride-to-be.

Delicious punch, with sandwiches, cookies and salted nuts was served in the dining room.

THROUGH A WOMAN'S EYE

By Mrs. W. W. Whitaker

Much is being said about the wages paid to negroes at the camp area and the "next to impossible" situation of securing a good servant for home tasks here in Grenada. All of this could be turned into a wonderful experience for the negroes if the negro will only awaken to his opportunity, and take care of and invest his money wisely now.

Let us say that where a negro has been paid about $2 or $3 per day by local people, or better still, about $1.50 per day for common labor, that now there is a group of negroes making from $25.00 to $60.00 and possibly more, per week at the camp. To be sure these men are working harder than ever before for they are supervised better and with these improved working conditions we hope that they are living better, that is that they are eating better food and more of it, than formerly. Many negro men who are working regularly now have been fed for years from the pan mammy "toted" home from the white folks' kitchen, are now eating their own store bought "victuals" for the first time in many a year.

These negroes should begin thinking of the day when the government (New Deal) wages will stop, when the old familiar job of working for his white folks here in Grenada will start again, and plan now to be in more comfortable circumstances than he was before his New Deal job started.

The very best thing that could happen to help the negroes of Grenada, is for every negro citizen to own his own home, no matter how small it is. To him and to his family, it would be an inspiration to become an even better citizen than he is today, as he would feel secure and sheltered and proud of his work. The argument against purchasing a home now is that the era of prosperity may suddenly come to an end. That something may happen to prevent the final payments, etc. The truth of the matter is this, one's equity is always protected in purchases and one isn't liable to ever have trouble if one is careful of legal details. If the negro citizen wishes to build a small new home later when building materials are available, then half of the job may be done now by purchasing a lot on which to build his home. One can vision a sub-division for negro citizens where a home may be built on an acre or two of ground which would be ample for a garden, orchard, cow pen, chicken houses and lawn.

Let every negro citizen give this seious thought, and when the big job is over in this area, there will be something tangable to show for the work negoes have done.

Just a tale. A sergeant was conducting a captured Japanese officer to the hospital in the rear. "You think you are going to win the war, eh," said the officer. "Yes," said the sergeant "and you think you are going to the hospital, don't you." Boom, moom.

Fate At The Cross Roads

Miss GRENNIE, sitting at the North Mississippi's Cross Roads has an important roll to play and her future life depends to a great extent upon how she carries on today. FATE or necessity, which ever you wish to call it, has placed within our fair city hundreds of new people, reaching from Fall River, Mass., Spokane, Wash., Detroit, Mich., and El Paso, Texas. We are like the little child before a house full of company, we are on our good behavior. We should do as the old song says,

Look Down That Lonesome Road

Yes, before we travel on - in other words we must look forward to the time when the rattle of the SWORD is heard no more and the folks that have gotten the dust of Grenada on their shoes will want to settle permanently to conduct business and make new homes.

Let's hope our daily contacts are creating good will and impressions on our visitors that will make them want to settle amongst us and help build our fair city to a greater GRENADA.

Selfishness Looks Only At Today

Unselfisbness looks beyond today. We'll admit that the cash register ringing today sounds good, but it will sound sweeter next month or year than today. In other words, we'll try to be just as courteous to you if you ask for an empty card board box, as we would if we sold you a big order.

Policy Bent To Fit Your Needs

The only TAPE binding upon us comes from the CAPITOL CITY and we try to adhere to it to the best of our knowledge and belief. Other than this, we run our business which has been gained by SWEAT and TEARS to conform to your needs and wishes.

Walking Over Diamonds

Grenada RIGHT NOW has the chance to recapture the trade that it once enjoyed: the "home trade" and the trade from Calhoun, Carroll and Tallahatchie. The people in our legitimate trade territory have restricted rations on gasoline and are running on their last tires—at least most of them are—and can no longer go to Memphis and other large cities to trade. I understand that a large percent of the checks sent to the mail order house are returned with the notation "out of this item".

But, by and large, the business people of Grenada are taking the line of least resistance and devoting their attention primarily to the "easy money" from the soldiers and from the construction workers, and little attention to the people who helped make Grenada what it is, and who, in the end, will keep Grenada a growing concern. By and large, our businessmen are like the nestlings who wait, mouth agape, for the mother birds to hustle for the worms and bugs and drop them into their mouths.

Buying habits of the people, once fixed, are hard to change. We today have a chance to make it the habit of the people in Grenada's trade territory to "buy in Grenada." We are muffing that chance rapidly.

Some big shot in Washington, for some reason or no reason at all, could decide to abandon the camp and the air base to the bats and owls. SOME DAY, be it near or far off, they will be abandoned. What then? We shall have to get back to earth. Our businessmen will have to make a terrific effort to do something—recapture their legitimate trade—that is easy NOW, but will be hard as hell THEN.

How Does Murphree Get Away With It

No, I am not now talking about selling state lands to bell hops, bus boys and other hotel employees?

When I ask the question, "How does Murphree get away with it," I am asking how he gets away with the practice of having Mr. R. L. Brown, editor of the Sumner Sentinel, send tens of thousands of free copies of this newspaper—not even printed in Sumner—all over the state to non-subscribers.

As I understand the postal laws relating to the use of the cheap second-class mail privileges; copies can be sent to bona fide subscribers who are not over six months delinquent, to other newspapers as "exchanges" and to advertisers to show that ads have been published as ordered, and, perhaps, to a limited number of complimentary subscribers. I think a few copies can be sent as SAMPLE copies, but the word, "Sample" must be printed on the copy, and only a very small percent of the actual circulation can be sent as sample copies.

I understand that, after a subscriber is six months delinquent, he can only receive the paper when the required amount of stamps are placed on the paper.

Now the Grenada County Weekly is receiving the Sumner Sentinel regularly. The Sumner Sentinel is not on our "exchange" list, and is not marked "Sample Copy," and, therefore, we are not entitled to receive the Sumner Sentinel under the Second Class postal rules. Thousands of other people, nay tens of thousands, are perhaps receiving regularly the Sumner Sentinel, people who never even heard of Sumner, much less the Sumner Sentinel.

It is well known that the postal service is overburdened because of increased volume of mail and on account of the loss of trained employees to the armed forces.

In the current issue of the Sumner Sentinel Mr. Murphree comes out strong for the early winning of the war, and the discontinuance of any practice which would delay the peace for even one minute. How is he helping win the war by burdening the mails—a most vital function in wartime—with tens of thousands of FREE copies of the Sumner Sentinel? Mr. Bob Brown, the editor of the Sumner Sentinel, in a front page article asks writers to be sure to use the "19" between Jackson and Mississippi in the address, in order to save the precious time and energy of the overworked postal employees; yet he is party to placing an unnecessary (and, I believe illegal) burden on the postal service by mailing FREE copies by the tens of thousands of the Sumner Sentinel, at second-class rates, to non-subscribers.

How do Bob Brown and Dinner$ Murphree get away with it, is a matter the postal authorities should look into.

Stop-Think-Pray

Attention is invited to a list of a series of sermons more or less in ad form which appears elsewhere in this issue. These sermons are to be preached by Rev. S. M. McClendon, B. D., D. D.

The sermon, "From the Pig Pen to the Palace" intrigues the imagination and should be helpful to some of the backsliders.

"Put That On My Account" should retard the impulse of the members of the flock from going too far in debt.

"Nine Reasons Why God Made Women" offers a fertile field to the man who possesses imagination and oratory. A lot of these fellws who have gotten into the toils of a scheming woman do not even know ONE reason why God made women. Some of them even wish God had NEVER made women.

The apex of this series of sermons is on Monday night when the minister will use the subject, "I'll Be Glad When You are Dead, You Rascal, You."

Certainly with this outpouring of inspirational words, our colored brethren should quit drinking gosh, carrying "switches" and leaving the other man's wife alone.

It is a pity that some of the white preachers could not get away from the dry subjects they usually base their sermons on and put a little pep and ginger into their speeches.

Abernethy On The Tax Bill

Pending in the Congress of the United States is a bill which would exempt all persons in the Nation from the payment of poll tax as a requisite to voting.

As is to be expected, Congressman Thomas L. Abernety of this district is strictly against the passage of this bill, and he raised his voice very loudly in the House on May 25 against this bill.

Charging that this bill is inspired by the Communist Party and that this message is directed solely at the South, and regretting that the President's wife had injected herself into the question, and stating that this bill, at this time, would create discord and disunity in the South, he said:

"But, nevertheless, I may point out one thing to the Members of the House, which I think is a reflection upon the poor white and colored people of the South, whom the proponents of the bill contend are disfranchised because of our poll-tax laws. The poll tax in Mississippi is fixed at $2 per year. Is there a man or woman here today who will argue with me that a citizen whose earning capacity is so nominal that he cannot pay 2 small dollars per year is competent to participatee in an election? There are many poor people in my State, to be sure. But it is an insult to even the poorest to insinuate that he is disfranchised because of the levying of a $2 poll tax. Why, there is not a man or woman in my State, white or black, nor in any other Southern State, who cannot by some means or another meet this qualification for voting, and thus contribute that much to the support of our schools.

Only God Knows

Only God, who made man imperfectly monogamous and gave him wandering feet, knows whether it is best for a wife to break up her home and take her children and follow her husbands about from camp to camp, or to stay put in her own house, among her friends, and not disrupt her children's lives. Yet it is a problem that confronts thousands of women today who realize that their husbands are in just as much danger in a camp as they would be on the firing line, and that they are more likely to lose them to predatory women than they are to Jap or Nazi bullets.

So what is the poor wife to do? Prudence tells her that what with the difficulty of finding any comfortable place to live in overcrowded army camps, what with dragging little children about from place to place and breaking up their routines, and what with the nerve-wracking uncertainty about when their husbands will suddenly be sent overseas, that it would be wiser to stay in their own houses and wait for their men to come back to them after the war is over. But the wives' hearts cry out for these last few weeks, or even days, with their husbands. Also they feel that they must fly to them and protect them. They feel that they must save their husbands from Other Women just as they would interpose their bodies between them and the enemies' bullets, if they could.

But can any wife protect her husband from temptation if he is out looking for adventures? I doubt it. Loyalty is not the result of being watched. It is something fundamental in a man's nature, or else it does not exist at all. A man is true to his wife because he loves her, because he is tender of her and would not dishonor her by his infidelities, not because she has her eye upon him.

There are wives who keep tab on all of their husbands' movements as far as they can, who keep them under lock and key at home, who read their letters and go through their pockets for incriminating evidence and watch for lip stick on their collars, yet who cannot keep them from philandering because it is the nature of the creature.

So in the end every wife has to trust her husband, whether he stays at home or goes abroad, and solace herself with the thought—which is generally the truth—that these little affairs really have nothing to do with his love for her and her children. They are just a little fling, a last kicking up of his heels before he turns his face to the grim business of middle age.

But the thought is bitter comfort to the wife.

Miscellaneous Thoughts

The principle of the pay-as-you-go tax plan is sound, but I cannot understand how it will work, and I doubt that anyone in Washington knows much about it. However the way taxes are paid, you can bet your last pair of drawers that everyone is going to have to pay greater and greater taxes.

One does not have to go very far to see that the United States government is the greatest waster of manpower in existence. Girls, drawing more than they are worth, fiddling away; three or four men to do two men's work. If Uncle Sam would let out the contract to win this war to some good old Irish contractor, it would be won ten cents on a dollar, provided the contractor was not hedged about with wages and hours business.

Whythehell aint that so and so in the army like my boy is? He has nothing to distinguish him as one who has been turned down at Camp Shelby or one who has been deferred on account of dependency or occupational status. Some distinctive badges or buttons, together with necessary papers "backing it up," should be given each man turned down or deferred.

Lester Franklin seems to be the only candidate for Governor who has any war record at all, and he has a record by virtue of the fact that his son is in the armed forces. War records will, therefore, be soft pedaled during the current campaign.

Tongues wagging at both ends and hinged in the middle can do more harm repeating gossip and repeating even facts about military affairs than a couple of machine gun nests.

Note, will you, the snappy appearance of these men who, a few short months ago, were the rawest of rookies. That shows what intensive training can do. It also shows what proper exercise, proper food and proper rest priods and regular habits can do.

Newspapers, which devote most of their space to boosting community affairs, "drives" of all kinds and other things of public interest, should, in justice, receive consideration when there is some paid work, like printing or ordering engaving or ordering rubber stamps, to be done. No newspaper worthy of the name can live upon the now almost non-existent revenue from advertising.

FOR STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC EDUCATION

To the People of Mississippi:

As a veteran of he firs World War, wounded in action fighting the Germans, I know the seriousness of this crisis. We are all interested in winning this war and the return of our youth. Those of us working on the home front realize that the education of our children cannot wait. We must give them now necessary training to meet the demands of war and postwar conditions. Our public schools face a real crisis. Our teachers are porly paid. The teacher shortage grows greater each day. Yet we must not neglect our own children.

With a background of farm and public school experience, I chose teaching as a profession and entered Ole Miss. I received the Bachelor's degree from Ole Miss, Master's from University of Chicago, and Doctor's from University of Michigan.

Except for the time spent in World War One I have devoted my entire time to public edvation. My experiences include: Class-room teaching in rural and city schools, principal of consolidated schools, state supervisor of N. Y. A., and adult education, instructor of teacher training at University of Mississippi and Mississippi Southern College, summer instructor at Mississippi College and Mississippi State College.

I appeal to all friends of Public Education to help me give Mississippi at efficient administration of the public schools of the state.

Goal To Be Reached By Sept. 1st In Poultry

With the arrival and distribution of additional poultry brooding and feeding equipment in May and during the early part of June, the Notheast Miss. Council today announced that its goal of 900 producing farmers in its poultry program, set for Sept. 1st would be reached.

Nineteen counties have farmers producing from 250 to 3,000 broilers and fryers each eleven weeks. In addition, the hatchery egg program of the Council, inaugurated in conjunction with the FFA, will have 60 flocks of 200 to 250 White Rock hens laying hatchery eggs early in September. Twenty-five of these flocks are in Panola County and 10 in Calhoun County, under direction of Mrs. Julia O. Davis, supervisor of the FSA, while the others are in Lee and Itatawamba counties, under bank and private direction.

The counties in the program, and their membership, are: Alcorn 60, Prentiss 52, Tishomingo 25, Tippah 45, Ittawamba 40, Marshall 48, Union 52, Benton 30, Tate 20, Panola 35, Yalobusha 30, Lee 75, Monroe 102, Lafayette 90, Pontotoc 60, Chickasaw 55, Calhoun 40, Webster 30, and Clay 4.

The third of the Council's processing plants, at Oxford, under the ownership of C. S. Haney, started active operations this week, and dressed more than 1,000 fowls the first two days. Mr. Haney himself has a flock of 3,500 broilers at the old CCC camp near Oxford, and plans to aise 1,000 broilers each week as a back log to keep his plant busy dressing. The Tupelo plant, owned by Ray Purnell, is working with a number of self-financed 1,000 to 3,000, while the Houston plant, owned by Marvin C. Boyd, has several producers striking four figures each week. Because of the widespread interest developed by the Council's program, hundreds of small farmers are raising flocks of from 50 to 150 broilers and layers, the program insuing them a steady market at government ceiling prices.

"Baby" Division Played Host To "Soldiers In Skirts"

First Sergeant danced with First Sergeant Saturday night as the "Baby" Division played host to 125 of Uncle Sam's "Soldiers in Skirts," at a special dance celebrating the coming of the WAACs to Camp McCain.

First Sergeant Carolyn Earny, of LaSalle, Ill., became a bit of armed pleasure for First Sergeant Theron White, Clarion, Pa., as the 87th Infantry Division officially welcomed the feminine might of America's Armed Forces to their new home.

The WAACs and their soldier escorts began the night's fesetivities as uniform marched side by side with uniform in the grand march. The WAACs recently arrived in Camp McCain for duty with Post Headquarters.

Each unit had a share in this the first all-soldier dance in the history of the 87th. The 345th Infantry contributed the orchestra. The Special troops provided refreshments. The 346th supervised the decorating of the ballroom. And the 347th Infantry arranged the program which had a bit of a surprise ending as the WAACs turned the tables and entertained their hosts with community singing.

The detachment of WAACs was accompanied by Lieutenant Ola L. Collier, of Houston, Texas, company commander, and Lieutenant Clark W. Chamer, of Detroit, Michigan.

Rabbits Needed For Rabbies Treatment, Says Dr. McCahey

Due to our inability to obtain rabbits, the brains of which we use for the preparation of rabies vaccine, we are forced to purchase rabies vaccine from a biological manufacturer whom we have a contract with. This vaccine will cost us and the patient $7.00 in addition to the C. O. D. fee. For this reason it will be necessary for us to mail all treatments C. O. D. Do not mail us your check for treatments.

There will be times when State manufacturered treatments will be available at $2.50 plus the C. O. D. fee. Let those who authorize you to order treatments understand that the cost may be $7.00 for each treatment or it may be $2.50 plus C. O. D. fee. When we are able to obtain rabbits for manufacturing the vaccine the cost will be $2.50 plus C. O. D. fee.

Please give this letter publicity in your local newspaper and advise rabbit growers in your community that we need rabbits weighing from four and one-half to six pounds. We pay thirty cents per pound plus express charges.

87th Concludes First Bond Campaign With Dance

In conjunction with the nationwide War Bond Drive to raise $13,000,000,000, the 87th Infantry Division concluded its first bond campaign Tuesday night at a special dance. When Major General P. W. Clarkson, commanding General of the Mid-South's "Acorn Division" presented Sgt. Theodore Gregory, of the 345th Infantry, with a $25 war bond as first prize in the Division's bond poster contest.

Over 85 percent of the entire Division personel got aboard the war bond wagon during the six weeks' drive becoming monthly bond buyers, and shareholders in the nation's future. This figure rates with the highest attained by a major military unit.

In awarding the bond to Sgt. Gregory, the General, visibly pleased by the figure attained by his outfit, said, "When my boys bet on themselves, you can be darn sure who's going to win."

Second and third prizes were won by Private Henry Leon, also of the 345th, who submitted two posters.

The Division Artillery, commanded by Brig. Gen. Russell G. Barkalow, topped all other units of the Division with a record of 97 percent.. The 912th Field Artillery Battalion scored 100 percent early in the campaign, setting the pace.

Interest in the bond drive was spurred by weekly dances held in the Service Club and attended by "Military Maids" from surrounding communities.

Aid to Enemy

"Any American who wilfully neglects to pay his taxes on time or to invest every cent he can in War Bonds is surely giving aid and comfort to the enemy . . . We have a job to do and we are all called for service to our country. Our dollars are called to service too. Let us all ask ourselves, 'Shall we be more lender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?'" — Secretary Morgenthau.

dere mr top, I see mr. dinner$ murfy is fer winning the war in a hurry. I want ya 2 splain 2 me how he cud help win the war even if a accideot happened and he was lected.

One thing these gubernatorial candidatees cannot throw at each other is a war record. Not ONE of them participated in the last war. Each of them, except the lame Dennis Murphree, was within the 21-31 age limit in 1918, and just as fit for military service as I was. I believe that if some able man WITH a war record would offer, he would be elected this year.

Fred Sullens who, like myself, is for Conner, came out again Sunday with a statement tht Mike would (or might) be elected in the first primary. If Mike should be crazy enough to listen to that kind of poppycock, he would not even get into the run-off. He has too many enemies, while his opponents have too many friends. However Mike eats that kind of stuff like the ants at the sorghum mill eat the "skimmings" in the autumn.

I see that the state candy-dates are still having their printing done by the union print shops in Jackson, Vicksburg and Meridian. However they expect the poor country printers-publishers to furnish them a lot of FREE publicity and some of us are foods enough to do it, but not many.

Well, by good luck and the forbearance of a lenient bunch of creditors, the GCW has got by another first of the month, happily.

I see where Brother Ellett Lawrence has got into the big shot Hot Springs class. Poor printers have to take CCC pills, 3 for a nickel.

That Nagging Backache
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

I SAID GOOD-BYE TO CONSTIPATION
Harsh, medicinal laxatives only griped me—and never really stopped my constipation. It always came back.
Then I found out why. I just wasn't taking enough "bulk"-forming foods. So—I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly and drinking plenty of water. And—I "Joined the Regulars!"
That's because KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN gets at the cause of constipation like mine and corrects it—by helping to form a soft, bulky mass in the intestines.
If your trouble is what mine WAS, why not try KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN? It's made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek and tastes swell.

PETER COMFORTS PERSECUTED CHRISTIANS

LESSON TEXT—I Peter 3:13-17; 4:12-16; 5:6-10.

GOLDEN TEXT—For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well-doing, than for evil-doing.—I Peter 3:17.

What shall we do? Where shall we turn? Is there no help for us? Such are the natural and understandable cries of those who bear the heavy heartbreak of persecution. God's Word has the answer, for from the very beginning the followers of Christ have had to meet that problem.

Peter is especially the apostle of comfort, and the portion now before us is rich in helpful instruction. His word to persecuted people is fivefold.

I. Do Not Be Afraid—Christ Is Lord (3:13-17).

By doing good the Christian will escape much suffering (v. 13), but if even then it comes, he is not to be afraid (v. 14). He is to sanctify Christ in his heart, that is, fully recognize the holiness of Christ and all that He is and can do for him. This is to be done in his heart. That means the exercise of full faith in Christ the Lord as the indwelling Presence. Who then can be afraid?

Note that this is not just a subjective spiritual exercise for his own enjoyment—it will show in his "good manner of life in Christ" which will put his persecutors "to shame" (v. 16). How effectively that has worked only recently in Germany, Norway and elsewhere.

II. Do Not Be Surprised—the Enemy Will Attack (4:12, 13).

Surprise attack is effective. Remember Pearl Harbor! Satan is an expert in strategy, and is eager to keep Christians in an easy and comfortable mood, so that he may strike a vicious blow when it is not expected. We best prepare to meet him when we recognize that persecution and suffering will come.

We are to bear in mind that it is not some "strange thing" which has happened; we who suffer as Christians are "partakers of Christ's sufferings." Joy and glory are ahead.

III. Do Not Be Ashamed—You Suffer for Christ (4:14-16).

Sadness and depression rest upon the one who suffers for his own evil deeds, but those who suffer for Christ's sake may be ever rejoicing. Can you not see that "the spirit of glory and the Spirit of God" are resting (v. 14) even now on some who sit in prisons and concentration camps? What a glorious picture of His grace!

It is proper to observe here that the believer is not to be guilty of that which justly brings the law's condemnation (v. 15). Do not fail to note the last of the list of crimes—"meddler in other men's matters." Has not just that caused endless trouble in the church, and harmed its testimony before the world? Let's quit meddling!

IV. Do Not Worry—He Careth for You (5:6, 7).

Worry! Worry! How it does crowd itself into our thinking. Yes, we know we are Christians, that we are unjustly accused or persecuted, that we are suffering for Christ's sake. That's all true, but how is it all coming out? What about my family? Will they harm my children? If I do survive will I be able to start life anew? And so on—questions without end; and soon comes the corroding touch of worry.

What shall we do? The answer is plain. Cast all your care on Christ—"He careth for you" (v. 7). That takes an act of faith just as it does to become a Christian in the first place, but it works.

The cure for all anxiety is right there—but it can only be reached by the path of humility. "Humble yourselves" (v. 6). There is the gateway to comfort, and to true exaltation in God's own good time (cf. Jas. 6:4-10).

V. Do Not Waver—God Is Your Strength (5:8-10).

Steady, perfected, established in Christ, sure of his eternal destiny and with the eyes of faith seeing the glory to come—such is the man who is ready and able to meet the devil when, like a roaring lion, he seeks to disturb and devour God's people. The believer should be ready and equipped.

That does not mean that the Christian sits with his hands folded waiting in a fatalistic way for the inevitable to happen. Never! He is "on the alert" with his spiritual ears attuned to hear the approach of the enemy's "bombers." He is "sober and watchful" against the "roaring lion" (v. 8).

Satan is unusually busy in our day. Alert Christian people see his deadly onslaughts on their brethren, which are possibly more severe now than for many years. He is seeking to break them down physically, mentally and spiritually, to make them fearful, to make them timid about work for Christ, to limit their usefulness, and to steal from them their victorious assurance. He is busy—let us be alert against him.

Enlisting Idle Acres For Food Production

New Goals Demand Full Use of Available Land

Getting idle acres back on the job is high on the list of "must" activities for the farmer-committeemen of the Agricultural Adjustment agency during '43.

With production goals adding up to a tremendous total in food and fiber, maximum use of all agricultural resources will have to be employed to meet minimum demands for farm products, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard has announced. Land as well as machinery, labor and other tools of production is included in the department of agriculture's program.

As with other aspects of the Triple-A farm plan, each community will do the job of enlisting its own idle acres and idle farms for duty on the food front.

Secretary Wickard has requested that Triple-A committeemen, both county and community, locate available tracts of land in their districts which are not now producing, and take whatever steps are feasible to put them into useful activity.

Assistance will be given by the county USDA war boards where cases cannot be taken care of locally, and these boards have also been instructed to be prepared to help wherever possible in locating operators, in financing operations if required through available loan programs, or in helping the operator obtain labor or machinery should these items stand in the way of any land use.

Farmers have also been urged through Triple-A to rent to other operators acreage they themselves cannot put to work. Persons capable of managing a small farm, or of taking on additional cropland, will in turn be able to rent acreage from operators who already have under cultivation all they can possibly handle but who wish to see every square yard of their land in production.

Modern Bo-Peeps

Two girls are pictured inside the sheep pen at the University of New Hampshire, where they are taking a war course in agriculture and husbandry.

Grow Some Crops Seed; Country Will Need It

If you have a field to spare, put it to work for Uncle Sam and grow seed of grasses and legumes on it. The nation needs such seed for military, lend-lease and domestic use, and will pay you fair prices for what you produce.

This suggestion is made by C. S. Garrison, assistant extension agronomist at Rutgers university, in pointing out that the department of agriculture has developed a price support program on 20 kinds of hay and pasture seeds as an incentive to production.

"The list includes seeds of crops such as alfalfa, timothy, orchard grass, meadow fescue and red, sweet and alsike clover," Garrison says. "And where a farmer has a field which could be harvested for seed, this program will guarantee him a minimum price, as well as the satisfaction of helping to insure adequate supplies for 1944.

"It is important to maintain the supply of good seed of the legumes and grasses since they are playing a large part in the war production program," Garrison reminds farmers. "Legumes and grasses used in crop rotation have shown themselves to be effective in maintaining crop yields.

Agricultural Notes

Since meat rationing has gone into effect the raising of rabbits for meat has been given considerable impetus.

When planting potatoes this should be remembered. Blocky seed pieces with one good eye should be used, for they dry out less readily and may be handled more easily than long pieces.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Attu Victory Brings U. S. Nearer Tokyo; Flood Damage Menaces Food Production; Labor Stirred by Lewis Bid to AFL; Churchill: 'Bomb Jap Cities to Ashes'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

ALEUTIANS: Tokyo Gets Nearer

The Japanese government had prepared the civilian population of Nippon for the fall of Attu through the medium of a report indicating that the last defenders of the Aleutian Islands outpost were making a death stand against attacking American troops.

While the Japs were singing their Attu swan song, reports from Washington had disclosed the strategic moves that had succeeded in bottling the enemy up. Two American columns, landed on opposite sides of the island, had joined and trapped the Japs on a narrow front on the northwestern end of Attu.

Japs Warn Reds

As American air power thus moved closer to Tokyo, the Japs showed their unrest. Apparently the success of Allied bombings of Germany had stirred the Japanese government to the dangers ahead should the United Nations be permitted by Russia to use Siberian bases.

The result was a Tokyo broadcast reported by the British warning Russia that "if in the future she ever put her Siberian bases at the disposal of the United States, the Japanese army will resort to a blitzkrieg and will deal upon her the heaviest blows Russia has ever known."

AFL TO LEWIS: 'Come Back Home'

Unpredictable John L. Lewis knocked at the door of the American Federation of Labor carrying in his hand an application for the readmission of his United Mine Workers. Just eight years before he had torn the parent union asunder in the greatest labor schism in history.

That the door would be opened wide to the errant Mine Workers was evident from AFL President William Green's announcement that the federation's executive council was considering Lewis' application in an "orderly and sympathetic way." Green said he personally welcomed the miners and reminded the public that for seven or eight years he had said the latch string was out and he wanted the miners "to come back home."

What effect Lewis' move would have on the present peace negotiations between the AFL and the CIO which Lewis founded and later quit, was not immediately evident.

EUROPE: Air Blasts Continue

In the wake of ebbing flood waters that had swept disastrously through Germany's industrial Ruhr valleys from the Eder and Moehne dams, shattered by RAF bombs, American Flying Fortresses inflicted further punishment on the Nazis in attacks on submarine and shipbuilding yards at Kiel and Flensburg, 40 miles away.

Air Force communiques said the unescorted bombers had left both targets in flames and shot down many enemy fighter planes that had tried to ward them off.

FLOODS: Peril Farm Output

Ruined crops, inundated cities, damaged homes and casualties from drownings resulted from the disastrous flood that started in Midwestern farm states and spilled south from rivers and streams flowing into the Mississippi river.

As emergency crews and troops had toiled to check the rise of flood waters and hold down damage from breaks in Mississippi river levees protecting rich farm lands and war plants, weather bureau officials attributed the flood to unprecedented May rains.

In Illinois alone the continuous rains had destroyed 100,000 acres of corn, wheat and oats. Other states reporting serious crop destruction were: Indiana, Missouri, Arkansas, Kansas and Oklahoma. The flood losses represented a critical threat to the nation's epochal wartime food production crusade. The damage resulted not only from crops already in, but from serious delays in planting corn and other vital cereal crops.

CLOTHES: May Avoid Rationing

Rationing of clothing and other textiles may be avoided as a result of plans worked out between officials of the War Production board and retail clothing dealers, it was announced in Washington.

Under the new plan the WPB will make possible increased production of more essential types of clothing and textiles. At the same time retailers have promised to revise certain practices and develop new methods designed to relieve pressure on the industry.

"We believe we can avoid clothes rationing and other textiles this winter and perhaps indefinitely, if we get adequate support from the public," said an official statement.

CHURCHILL: 'Hitler First; Japs Next'

War to the death on Japan, but defeat of Hitler first was the recipe for complete United Nations' victory prescribed by Prime Minister Winston Churchill in his historic speech before congress.

Answering congressional critics who predicted that Britain would leave the burden of defeating Japan to America, Mr. Churchill pledged the empire to war side by side with the United States "while there is still breath in our bodies and while blood flows through our veins." He promised, further, that British air power will join with American to bomb Jap cities and war industries, adding: "In ashes they must surely lie before peace comes to the world."

He defended present United Nations strategy founded on the judgment of President Roosevelt, himself and their military advisers that "while defeat of Japan would not mean the defeat of Germany, the defeat of Germany would infallibly mean the ruin of Japan."

Greater aid for both China and Russia were promised by Churchill.

THE HOME FRONT

SPEARHEAD CORNER OF WAR INFORMATION

Things have been going well enough on our military fronts. And because of that there's been some leaning back and relaxing upon the home front. The President reminded us last week that the war's not over.

He created the Office of War Mobilization, headed by Justice James F. Byrnes, a Southerner. It makes Byrnes "Assistant President", gives his new agency real powers to control the various agencies of Government which effect the lives of all of us in wartime. This action is expected to result in a stiffening of the civilian part of the war machine.

GOLDENROD RUBBER

The search for rubber-bearing plants to replace supplies which the Jap pirated from us has moved into the South. Goldenrod which grows beside almost every road in Dixie, is the latest possibility. Experiments to obtain rubber from goldenrod are now under way in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi.

And another move to make full use of our natural sources is eating more kinds of fish. Nearly all fish are good to eat, yet we have been scorning all but a few varieties.

NEW RATION BOOKS

Folks who didn't get applications through the mail for War Ration Book No. 3 can obtain them at the General Delivery window of the Post Office. Applications should be mailed before next Thursday. Some people have been sending them in without signing their names which will delay delivery of their books.

OPA reminds dairymen that prices of mixed dairy feeds in the South have been reduced $2 a ton.

HOME GOSSIP BEST

A survey of the reading tastes of men in service, both here and overseas, shows they are doing lots of reading. Their favorite "literature?" It's letters from home. They want to know (1) how the family's doing financially (2) what the folks are doing to aid the war (3) who's marrying whom these days (4) news of friends (5) the "night life" situation in the old home town.

MORE BOOKS

Despite the cut in paper supplies, more books are being printed today than ever before.

Expired red and blue point ration stamps are called a breeding ground for black markets. No good to the housewives, they may be very much alive in trade channels. OPA says that any attempts to collect expired ration stamps should be reported to the state OPA office.

If victory depends upon some of these Victory Gardens I have seen, we are going to get the hell beat out of us.
